International Small Companies Equity Portfolio Management Team Update

Samuel Hosseini, CFA, ACA, has been appointed a portfolio manager of our International Small Companies strategy as a paper portfolio manager. In this role, he will share his thinking with the International Small Companies team by managing a model portfolio to which no client capital is allocated (a “paper portfolio”). He will also continue to serve as a research analyst covering the Health Care and Consumer Discretionary sectors. The addition of Sam to the strategy’s team reflects our ongoing commitment to preparing our rising generation of investment leaders. Jafar Rizvi and Anix Vyas remain co-lead portfolio managers of the International Small Companies strategy. Former paper PM and software analyst, Chris Mack is no longer with the firm. We wish Chris well in his future endeavors.

Samuel’s Background

Samuel Hosseini joined Harding Loevner in 2017 as research associate, steadily advanced through our analyst ranks, and currently serves as a senior analyst covering Health Care and Consumer Discretionary companies. Sam previously worked as a Health Care analyst at Canaccord Genuity and prior to that as a senior auditor at Ernst & Young. Sam is a graduate of the Imperial College London with a BS in Biology with Management and holds designations of both Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) and Associate Chartered Accountant (ACA). He has over 14 years of investment experience.
