Investment Perspectives

Market

As the pandemic eased and the recovery continued in most of the developed world, Energy and Financials led market returns. The prospect of higher interest rates helped banks continue their strong year-to-date run. Conversely, stocks lagged in Information Technology (IT) and Consumer Discretionary, where questions arose whether demand could keep rising at the pace witnessed at the height of the pandemic. A high concentration of Energy and Financials companies powered Canada higher. Europe fared well as COVID-19 cases declined, pandemic restrictions relaxed, and vaccination efforts sped up after a sluggish start.

Portfolio

We continue to see long-term growth opportunities within Health Care. The CEO of Illumina, the global leader in genetic sequencing tools, stated recently that we have entered a "golden era" for health care innovation due to advances in genomics and other areas of microbiology. We agree and believe that Illumina is well positioned to benefit from these advances as well as the industry's renewed focus on investigating new gene-based therapies now that the pandemic is monopolizing less of its attention. As genetic sequencing technology improves and the cost falls, Illumina's tools should have increasingly wider applications, from massive sequencing studies of large populations to clinical diagnostics and pre-natal testing.

- In IT, shares of advertising tech company The Trade Desk declined on concerns that its open internet ID solution, an alternative to third-party internet tracking cookies, would be rendered ineffective as a result of Google's own, even broader efforts to improve data privacy.
- In Germany, TeamViewer announced disappointing earnings; the market is increasingly skeptical that the provider of remote industrial work software will be able to sustain its growth rates from last year as more workers return to the factory floor.
- In Energy, Schlumberger reported improving earnings and signaled increasing confidence in the strength and length of the oil recovery, which should boost demand for its servicing equipment.

- Our strategy has suffered from the recent surge in slower-growing, less highly valued stocks.
- In Health Care, US-based Vertex Pharmaceuticals' shares fell after disappointing clinical trial outcomes, and Japan's Chugai Pharmaceutical reported a decline in earnings as sales of the company's hemophilia drugs fell below recent trends.
- Within off-benchmark Emerging Market holdings, Brazil's COVID-19 struggles weighed on Itaú Unibanco. Polish video game maker CD Projekt also detracted after its botched Cyberpunk launch.
- Among regions, the bright spot was the US, where John Deere and Alphabet reported increasing demand, aided by the improving economy.
